Letter Received Yesterday Says Fight More Bodies Were Found in Slaughterhouse—The Jewish Residents of Other Towns Fear More Massacres.

A number of letters describing the Jewish massacres at Kishineff were received in this city "esterday. One of them, made public by the Jewish Journal last night gives an account of the beginning of the trouble, and tells of eight bodies being found in a slaughterhouse several days after the massacre. The letter was dated April 18, or May 1 by our calendar.

Some of the descriptions of outrages cannot be printed, but a part reads: To My Dear Cousin Joseph Samuel and Wife to live in happiness: DEAR COUSIN: In my last letter I have already stated to you about the terrible outrages committed against our brethren in Kishineff. . It . started first by a group of small boys who opened by throwing stones into Jewish houses. These boys were en-couraged by the police. Later a band of ruffians dressed in red shirts arrived on the scene. They looked as if they were organized by the police, as the police followed them without molesting them. They commenced their assaults by out-raging little girls in the public streets and torturing them to death. The hands and feet of one carpenter were sawed off; legs of others were cut off, tongues torn out, &c. The Lieutenant-Colonel of the garrison in Kishinev, a Christian, but a humane person. went to the Governor for instructions but he was told not to interfere. He protested and went to telegraph to St. Petersburg. His message was not accepted by the telegraph authorities. He then went to Bendere, a neighboring town and telegraphed from there to St. Petersburg. The reply came within twenty-four hours after, to the Governor, to suppress the riot and use force if need be. It took but a few minutes to suppress it.

Now the Governor General M. Poushkin, is here from Odessa, and is conducting an investigation of the massacre. While I am closing this letter I find that the butchers who went to the slaughter house for the first time since the riots, have just returned with eight Jewish corpses which were found hanging in the slaughter house.

SHAE DAVID CHAINOWITZ. One of the letters received yesterday expresses fear that further trouble is coming. The letter says that Jews are leaving other Russian towns by the scores fearing new outbreaks.

The Jewish Daily Herald received vesterday a letter from Kieff, dated April 30, telling of the agitation at that place. It was written by M. Rabinowitz, a Russian tering of the agitation at that place. It was written by M. Rabinowitz, a Russian writer and says in part:

The old holy city of Kieff with her 50,000 Jews, has come in now for suffering, and the Jews of this town are not waiting. They are running away as from the black plague. They are running away strom the black plague. They are running away without aim and without purpose—running away to save their lives. And do you know why? A rumor—only a rumor—was spread that the butcherry of Kishineff will be repeated here.

The well-to-do men are emigrating to foreign countries, the middle class to Warsaw and Odessa. The poor ones go to neighboring cities. I have just returned from Demaivsky. Not a Jew is to be seen there and there were 3,000 families—at least 15,000 Jews. The same is true at Podol and many other places.

Yesterday the chief of police went to the River Dnieper where crowds of Jews were wathering to leave the city. He begged them to come back, promising the protection of the military forces. The Jews promptly replied that the soldiers at Kishineff hepled kill the Jews. The Zlonists of this city have formed a band of militia, consisting of 2,000 young men fully armed and prepared for an emergency.

M. D. Hermalin, editor of the Daily Jewish Herald, 132 Canal street, had this to say about the statement which Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador at Washington, made on Friday. He said:

"Count Cassini says the Russian Government was in no way connected with the riots. At a meeting of the Russian Cabinet Ministry about three months ago there was a discussion regarding the restrictions against Jews within the pale of settlement. After M. de Witte, the Minister of Finance, had spoken against adding to the restrictions, M. von Plevhe, the Minister of the Interior, said that the more Jews were restricted and driven away from their usual occupations the better it would be for the Gov-

Prince Uchtomsky, editor of the St. Petersburg Vedomosty, said in a late issue of his paper that if the peasants were asked why they killed the Jews they would answer: 'We do not know.' They were ordered to kill, and did so.

"And when Count Cassini says the reports of the massacre are exaggerated comment.

And when count cassin says the reports of the massacre are exaggerated comment is useless. The official messenger of the Government reports that forty-five Jews were killed, a few hundred injured and 1,000 homes were demolished." The Jewish Daily Herald received also a

The Jamin Daily Herald received also a letter from its correspondent in Buhusi, Roumania, who had been to Kishineff. The correspondent wrote that "at least twenty-five city officers in civil garb were recognized among the villagers."

The letter adds:

The letter adds:

When some of the Jews who were well acquainted with them asked them for protection, some of them, ashamed, turned their heads. Others continued to rob and pillave. For eight days afterward the Jews were starving, and there are facts to prove that bread had arrived within that period, but the Kishineff police did not deem it necessary to distribute it.

When the police were appealed to for protection they shouted: "Wait until orders arrive from St. Petersburg. Until then it matters little whether a few thousands of you Jews are killed!"

It was estimated vesterday that $30,000

It was estimated yesterday that $30,000 had been collected and sent abroad for the relief fund. Money for the sufferers is now coming in at a rate of about $2,000 a day.

Special performances were given at the Windsor Theatre on the Bowery yesterday afternoon and evening, the proceeds of which will go, to the relief fund. In the evening Congressman Goldfogle made a speech. Gov: Odell telegraphed that he was unable to attend because of illness in his femily.

A theatrical performance will be given on the evening of June 2 at the Grand Theatre for the benefit of the sufferers. Tickets may be secured from Robert Smith & Co., 58 West Fourteenth street. Mr. Smith has charge of the arrangements.

ZIONISM THEIR HOPE. London Jews Say That Is the Only Escape

From Oppression.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, May 16.- The Kishineff massacres were used to-night at a mass meeting of Jews at Shoreditch as an argument in favor of Zionism as the only remedy for these recurring cruelties. The hall was erowded with Jews, and many prominent men were on the platform. There were many references to the Kishineff outrages, all of which met with violent shouts of deninciation. A resolution declaring that the only practical solution of the Jewish question was provision for a legally assured home in Palestine and pledging support to Dr.

Theodore Herzl, the president of the Pale-stine association and leader of the Zionist movement, was greeted with prolonged applause ... Sir Francis Monteflore, who presided.

said the anti-Samitic feeling in Russia was so strong that the conditions were worse than in the Middle' Ages.

Leopold Greenberg, the author, created a sensation by moving a resolution containing this statement "wherever we look throughout the world, whether at the steps now being taken in America to still further narrow the avenue of escape of our brethren, or at the British alien commission, everywhere we see signs of that disease (anti-Semiticism); wherefore we contend that Zionism is the only cure." Israel Zangwill was the chief speaker to this resolution. He delivered a long and carefully prepared address, during which be frequently aroused his hearers to a pitch of excitement and sometimes to anger by his descriptions of the Kishines butcheries All of his remarks were arguments in favor

STOP THE SLAUGHTER OF JEWS. Dr. Mendes Wants Every Church to Protest

The Rev. Dr. H. Pereira Mendes preached at the Spanish and Portuguese Synagogue, Central Park West, yesterday, on slaughter of Jews in Russia. He said:

slaughter of Jews in Russia. He said:

O holy Russia, where is thy holiness!
Let it be that as American citizens we are one day told to trust her and the next day we are filled with distrust, because like the great glacier from the North, she, slowly, pitflessly, resistlessly, crushes onward in her progress.
Let apologists plead for southern outlets for her, even though her ambition to gain them keeps all the great Powers girt for war and ferced to hold their sons in the leash ready to
to be loosed at a word.

Far and wide the appeal for help has been sent. For those who were rich are now poor, the poor are poorer, and ruin is general with starration and suffering to add to the misery.
Can the sentiment of this country be roused to protest? Oh, that every church would protest! If the American people would make the Russian Ambassador and the Russians Cohsuls here feel their indignation, instead of treating them as equals, American manhood and womashood would be the nobler for such moral courage. This country had a right to remonstrate with Spain for her inhumanity to the Cubans. Has not every civilized government the right to remonstrate with the Russian authorities for allowing those riots, for excusing the local officials, for not indemnifying those who have suffered for want of the protection of the police and military?
Let all contribute to the relief fund, rich and poor, each one as he can afford, but let no effort be slackened to bring to the notice of the Czar and his Ministers the world's horror of the violence and outrages committed by the Russian people.

"Governments must become agents for moral reformation. They must be the power that makes not only for the physical but also for the moral well-being of the people. "The reports that come to us reveal such a series of crimes as to make us stand aghast. What can be done? Much money is needed for the immediate relief of the sufferings of the widows, orphans, the maimed and crippled. Many thousands of dollars have been collected, but much more is needed. From every rostrum and pulpit there should go forth a strong protest against the brutality that equals the bestiality of the savage. It is not the affair of the Jews alone, but of the whole civilized world.

"Mass meetings should be held in all

Mass meetings should be held in all "Mass meetings should be held in all cities of this country and a sentiment created, aiming to destroy this racial and religious prejudice. America should insist on making another treaty with Russia in which it should be stipulated that every American passport should be honored, irrespective of the religion of him whose passport it is. There is no good reason why the private faith in any religion other than the Russian Greek Church should invalidate a passport.

TULLOCH'S STATEMENT IN. Mr. Payne Says Forty-seven Pages of Are Nothing but Wind.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Seymour Tulloch, former cashier to the Washington city post office, this morning filed with Postmaster-General Payne a statement in substantiation of the allegations made by him recently in an interview published in a local newspaper with regard to irregularities in the Post Office Department. The statement consists of fifty typewritten pages and contains about 15,000 words

Postmaster-General Payne went through the document just before going to his lunch, and was not impressed by its contents. He said: "The statement presented to me by Mr Tulloch to-day is little more than an amplification of his statements made in recent newspaper interviews. It consists largely of glittering generalities. Mr. Tulloch or gittering generalities. Mr. Tulloch pins nothing down. There are three pages out of the fifty which contain definite statements that may aid us in the investigation now being made. The other forty-seven pages consist largely of—I don't care to say wind—but, at any rate, just talk. Mr. Tulloch is not definite, he is not concise, he is not convincing. But every charge made in his statement will be fully investigated.

"It is my belief that many of the alleged irregularities of which he complains resulted from the fact that the Porto Rically postal service was for a time technically a branch of the Washington city post office. Much confusion resulted from this condition, which was unavoidable at the time, owing to the lack of an appropriation for the postal service in Porto Rico, and there were some vouchers which were disallowed by the Treasury Department. I believe, however, that everything of this nature however, that everything of this nature has been straightened out, with the exception of possibly an amount of less than one hundred dollars.

"To accept all the charges made in this statement of Mr. Tulloch's as fact would be to say that former Postmaster-General Smith, Comptroller of the Treasury Tracewell and Postmaster Merritt knew absolutely nothing about conditions in the post office at the time Mr. Tulloch was cashier of the Washington office, and that Mr. Tulloch knew everything. The statement is not all I hoped it would be, in view of Mr. Tulloch's previous utterances, but we will loch's previous utterances, but we will do the best we can with it."

This afternoon, before an audience of twenty-five newspaper men, the Post-master-General went over the Tulloch state-ment in detail, pointing out the irrelevancy of the greater part of it, ridiculing the asser-tions made, explaining away many of the allegations and, generally, making light of the whole of it.

the whole of it.

One of Mr. Tulloch's statements characterized as ridiculous by Mr. Payne, was the assertion that on paydays a sister-in-law of Abner McKinley had the payroll brought to her instead of going with the other clerks to sign it. Tulloch said this was due to the privileges of "royal blood," and Postmaster-General Payne somewhat heatedly expressed an uncomplimentary opinion of the bad taste shown in such a remark.

rems k.

The Postmaster-General asserted that Mr. Tulloch's statement that Comptroller of the Treasury Tracewell had called off an investigation into irregularities in the Washington Post Office was false, that the prostitution before the computed, and investigation had been completed and action taken to correct the irregularities found. "This is just a sample of the untruths in the document," Mr. Payne re-truths in the document," Mr. Payne remarked.

A considerable portion of the document is devoted to a discussion of Mr. Tulloch's own grievance and the alleged conditions in the Washington Post Office which preceded his resignation, but which the Post master-General does not consider germane to the investigation of the alleged scandals in the department. Mr. Tulloch also argues at length that the Postmaster at Washington should be a permanent resident of the District of Columbia. Mr. Payne said somewhat scornfully that he didn't see what that had to do with the subject in hand, and that this was only a sample of the general worthlessness of the entire statement.

"I am really very much disappointed." eral worthlessness of the entire statement.

"I am really very much disappointed," said Mr. Payne, "as a result of perusing the Tulloch statement, from which such great things were expected. There are no new points embodied in the document; it is a hodge-podge of personal grievances, insiruations, charges, assertions, newspaper clippings, reports of rumors and all such things as those, with absolutely no truth to hask them up. I turned the statement. to back them up. DEPUTIES STOP A. BELMONT.

SAY HE SCORCHED HIS AUTO AT 26 1-2 MILES AN HOUR.

Will Produce His Chauffeur in Court and Fight Case-Long Island Speed Detectives Expect a Rich Harvest of Fines To-day Under New Go-Slow Law. MINEOLA, L. I., May 16 .- August Belmont, the New York banker, was stopped on the Jericho turnpike yesterday while on his way in his automobile to his country home in Hempstead. Frederick Watruss of Westbury was in the machine with him. The deputies who made the arrest charge Mr. Belmont's chauffeur, Charles Partel, with speeding at the rate of ?61/2 miles an hour. Mr. Belmont promised to produce Partel in court on Thursday of next week and he was allowed to proceed. He declared his intention of fighting the case. Exciting and prosperous times are looked forward to by deputy sheriffs in this county who make a business of chasing automobiles Last season they reaped a harvest in fines from automobile owners who were convicted of violating the Cocks Speed law, which restricted the machines to twenty miles an hour. Under the provisions of the new Bailey Speed law they think they see the arrests and fees and fines trebled. It is expected that to-morrow the woods will be full of deputies with stop watches and red flags and a general round-up of devil wagons is predicted.

The deputies travel in pairs. One carries a stop watch and the other a red flag and automobiles are timed over a quarter of a mile. The deputy with the red flag acts as a sort of starter, and the man at the finish of the quarter holds the watch, taking time from the drop of his companion's flag.

Despite a scramble of all the deputies along the turnpike vesterday, a big red automobile got away, after causing a runa-way in which B. F. Bryant, superintendent way in which B. F. Bryant, superintendent of a stable here, was thrown out of his carriage and badly hurt. The machine continued on and, owing to the heavy cloud of dust in its wake, the deputies were unable to read the initials on the rear.

It is proposed to supply the deputies with field glasses to be used in emergencies of this kind.

GOT E. R. THOMAS'S AUTO DRIVER. Police Add Another to His List of Troubles With His Machines.

Edward Hawley, automobile driver for Edward R. Thomas, was held for trial yesterday in the Harlem police court on the charge of speeding Mr. Thomas's machine. Hawley was arrested at 154th street and Amsterdam avenue while returning with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas from the Morris Park racetrack.

Since Mr. Thomas took to automobiling Since Mr. Thomas took to automobiling he has met with many unpleasant experiences. He ran down and killed seven-year-old Henry Thies nearly a year ago at Convent avenue and 135th street. At another time he and his wife were attacked by a mob of East Side hoodlums.
